What is an epicam V?

1 Overview The epiCam V is a hand-held retinal fundus camera for veterinary use. It can be used to take colour digital images of the retina by imaging through the pupil. The epiCam V has the following features: o Captures real-time video with the option to freeze and store images on demand.

How do I connect the epicam V to my computer?

You must connect the epiCam V to your computer using the USB cables supplied. Do not touch the objective lens (see Section 2.2) whilst connecting or disconnecting the epiCam V as any dirt, fingerprints, dust, or other foreign objects on the objective lens could appear as artefacts in captured images.

What should I do if my epicam V is damaged?

It is recommended that the epiCam V is disconnected from the PC/laptop and stored within the carry case to protect both the device and computer from accidental damage. Never wipe the objective lens with disinfecting ethanol, eyeglass lens cleaner, or cleaning paper containing silicon as the lens surface could be damaged.
