I player on the server i play on is spamming hundreds of RTG's for passive power, so I just went through all the different Environmental Tech Solar Arrays in Enigmatica 2 Expert, and recorded all their modified values, to show him that there is a better way.

Solar Cells. Solar cells are obviously the most important part of the Solar Panel. Any combination of cells(Any tier) can be used on any Panel, meaning you could potentially use Nanorite and ...

The Piezo Modifier is a block added by Environmental Tech. It allows the Solar Array Controller to work in the rain. Tier 5 and Tier 6 solar arrays make about 3/4 of their original power due to them both having 12 piezo modifiers. Unfortunately these effects are greatly diminished on tiers with...

Solar Cells. Solar cells are obviously the most important part of the Solar Panel. Any combination of cells(Any tier) can be used on any Panel, meaning you could potentially use Nanorite and Xerothium cells on a Litherite Solar Panel, or Litherite and Aethium cells on a Xerothium Solar Panel. You are not limited to what cells you want to use in ...

I did some more investigation, and sure enough, in a solar array the individual solar cells can be swapped out for higher tier ones, with a concurrent increase in RF generation. I tested this quickly by swapping out single litherite (Tier 1) cells from a top tier solar array with tier 2 and tier 6 cells, then swapping more out, before finally ...

I just built myself a Tier 3 solar array using Litherite solar cells and according to This page I should be getting 12K RF/T but I'm only getting 4500. I'm not sure if this page is up to date or what. I'm using the Enigmatica 2 normal modpack.

When I look at JEI it shows two percentages of chances of finding Litherite at about 1% for the normal lens (these figures are based on my memory from last night) and then about 6% for another lens but it doesn't show a lens for the higher chance.
